

The organizers of Nordic ISCAR 2013 conference decide to extend the deadline for submitting proposals one more month. The new deadline is for sure 31 January 2013!

A Nordic perspective on the Cultural and the Activity approach in Theory and Practise The sixth Nordic ISCAR 2013

12-14 June 2013 at Kristianstad University, Sweden
Call for abstracts 31 January 2013

The sixth Nordic Conference on Cultural and Activity Research emphasizes active participation from those attending the conference. The program will consist of different formats like paper presentations, symposiums, roundtable, etc. The organizing committee will be responsible for clustering the papers.

Please submit an abstract of 250 words including references by Monday 31 December 2012. The final length of each paper should be 1,500 words including references.

The conference will be organised with four tracks of parallel paper presentation sessions each day closing with symposiums. Posters will be presented in the university reception area and participants are welcomed to present books. The planned formats are:

- individual paper presentation (15 minutes presentation, 5 minutes discussion)
- poster and book presentations in the university reception area
- symposium (20 minute presentation, comments by discussant, open discussion)

The full program will be accessible after the participants have registered, by 15th of April 2013.

Themes of the conference:

A Nordic perspective in design, implementation and use of new technology

A Nordic perspective in educational practice

A Nordic perspective in work practice

A Nordic perspective in theoretical analysis and methodological considerations
