Lived Words and Worlds: Community Engaged Literacies

JoLLE@UGA 2016 Winter Conference
January 30-31, 2016 Athens, GA

This year’s theme for the JoLLE@UGA Winter Conference and subsequent spring journal issue is Lived Words and Worlds: Community Engaged Literacies. This theme invites educators and researchers to examine ways in which communities and literacies inform one another in pedagogy and scholarship. The JoLLE@UGA Winter Conference has established itself as an inventive and creative place for students, teachers, researchers, and community members to bridge theory, research, and practice in hands-on and action-oriented ways.

Community Engaged Literacies is an expansive topic designed to encourage submissions with your focused interpretations.
