

Figure 2: The basic mediational triangle in which subject and object are not seen only as “directly” connected but simultaneously as “indirectly” connected through a medium constituted of artifacts (culture).